

Stars

To think that we were born in stars and likely not the same ones and that we came together the chances of that happening:

astronomical.