

The Deliverance of Nancy Prague

The infant of Prague Nancy Prague; the Messiah it was, she claimed, she said she was a virgin, like a virgin she was white, white with fear, white with innocence, in a sense it was not going to be a regular baby, baby! it would be a big baby burden the whole world watching her for her every movement meant for the well-being of baby Boy, Boy was too holy to be named what would she name it, Him, it will be a He, He must be, without scar he must be for all to see when he grows up, high school will not be good enough for Him, will any school be good enough? will we want this child running wild without a mother Virgin's overlooking, watching it so it, Him, on a whim, doesn't toddle into the road and get whammed on the grid of a wide Mack truck what a tragedy, anticlimax, we must watch and wait for the messy antics of the Messiah to pass, wave by us like schools of sacred fish, whirl in the wind he must like any boy, Boy!, He's no regular boy wielding fists, rubbing welts, He shall not be spanked, whitey trash the media say His mother is, isn't a whore? no a virgin, if there is such thing wing it, they tell her, husbandless she is, wealth buried in the cushions of her three-legged sofa, win this battle, win it for the world, without even a mobile home, a lone wrecked apartment where the west side cramps the east side, wilderness, wild the media yell, should a Messiah why should a Messiah grow up there? with a poor, unwed mother, with a welfare check and no father, she's not a wife, she's white virgin, versions have said we have Jesus, we we we do, Do!, but won't, she will, but won't either because she's not well, won't be able to put up with Him, with the world watching through her window, wishing to wipe the precious Boy's bottom, but the baby's her baby's hers, the woman won't wait, won't withstand the wolfing and hounding, wounding her more, won't have the money, the will, the money, wealth to send him, she has welfare, can't find work, must reject throw out rid of trash expel purge expunge with all her love for her lil' Messiah worship ruined with a wrench which was to be demonstrated.
